

Privacy Policy

We will make every effort to maintain the confidentiality of your personal information.

The personal information we collect is for administrative reasons. It will be stored in a secure location on campus and will only be shared with researchers who are recruiting participants for an experiment. We will never sell your email address, phone number, or other personal information nor will we make any of this information available to the public. We will use your personal information for experiment recruitment and to confirm whether participants have showed up to sessions.

We will use your email address to send you invitations to participate in experiments. If at any time you no longer want to receive emails, then you can send an email to econexperiments@muhlenberg.edu indicating "I wish to be removed from the email list". Once removed from the list, you will no longer be contacted to participate in experiments. Once you graduate from Muhlenberg, you will no longer be contacted to participate in experiments.

If you sign up to participate in a session, we will use your email address to send you confirmations and reminders. In addition, on the day of the session, we will send a text message to the phone number you provided reminding you of the session's start time and location.

Researchers conducting experiments will never link the data collected during the experiment to your personal information. In other words, you are making decisions anonymously. A researcher may ask you link some of your personal information (for example, your sex or age) to the decisions you made. Your name will never be linked to the experimental data.

By participating in experiments at Muhlenberg College, you are acknowledging that you have read and agree with the terms of this policy.
