

She Said Ursula Rucker Live

Saturday, October 11, 2014 @ 8:00 pm

Baker Theatre

Trexler Pavilion for Theatre & Dance

Poet. Performer. Hip-hop recording artist.

Shamaness. The outspoken Ursula Rucker brings her civil but disobedient “she-lectricity” back to Muhlenberg for a night of original genre-defying performance. Part hip-hop show, part poetry-slam, part indefinable theatrical ritual, Rucker’s She Said is a new-jazz tour-of-duty onto the battlefields of social injustice, race and gender. Co-sponsored by the Department of Theatre & Dance and the Center for Ethics as part of the fall 2014 Civility & Disobedience program series.

Tickets are FREE for Muhlenberg students, faculty and staff, and $5 for the general public:

- Students: Pick up tickets in person at the Trexler Pavilion Box Office. Students must show a valid Muhlenberg student ID. One free ticket per student. (You may not pick up tickets for other students.) Click here for Box Office hours and contact info.
- Faculty & Staff: You may reserve free tickets (including additional tickets for partners and family) by contacting the Box Office.
- General Public: Tickets are $5 and can be purchased by contacting the Box Office.

We.Are.Here.

An evening of original performance by Muhlenberg students curated by Ursula Rucker

Tuesday, October 21, 2014 @ 8:00 pm

Red Door Café | Seegers Union

Guest artist Ursula Rucker premieres an evening of new spoken-word performances created by the First Year students in Muhlenberg's Emerging Leaders program. Set to live music, We.Are.Here. wrestles with issues of power, protest and identity, showcasing some brand-new, home-grown young artists. This event is free and unticketed. Simply show up and grab a seat! Co-sponsored by the Department of Theatre & Dance and the Center for Ethics as part of the fall 2014 Civility & Disobedience program series.